

BRICS and Climate Change

Date: 26 September 2024

Time: 12:00

TEAMS

T: +27 51 401 3121 | E: gaillelep@ufs.ac.za | www.ufs.ac.za

*Inspiring excellence, transforming lives
through quality,
impact, and care.*

UNIVERSITY OF THE
FREE STATE
UNIVERSITEIT VAN DIE
VRYSTAAT
YUNIVESITHI YA
FREISTATA

UFS
THE HUMANITIES
CENTRE FOR GENDER
AND AFRICA STUDIES

Dr Marina Magalhães Barreto Leite da Silva is an Assistant Professor at the University of Pernambuco and a professor at the Brazil–Japan Cultural Institute, both institutions in Brazil. Currently, her research is connected to fields such as Japanese contemporary history and international organizations.

Jana de Kluiver is a researcher specializing in political science, global security, and sustainability. She holds a Master of Arts in Political Science from the University of the Free State, where her research focused on the risks and opportunities associated with China's Belt and Road Initiative in Africa. With experience in various academic and professional roles, Jana has contributed to research on economic trends, policy analysis, and emerging risks across Africa. She has authored several publications and book chapters on topics such as China–Africa relations, debt dynamics, and global security initiatives. Her work has been featured in academic journals and presented at international conferences.

Shilpi Ghosh is a PhD research scholar at the Centre for African Studies, School of International Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University (JNU), specializing in Political Science and International Relations. She has worked as a Guest Faculty at the University of Delhi and contributed as a content writer for the School of Open Learning, University of Delhi. Shilpi has presented research papers at national and international conferences on topics including the Indian diaspora, climate change, conflicts and maritime security. Her work has been published in UGC-listed journals, Peer-reviewed journals and online portals with a focus on India–Africa relations, Climate change and conflict in East Africa.

Prof (Dr) Bashabi Gupta is a Professor based at the Dept of Geography, Miranda House, University of Delhi. She has completed her Ph.D. from the Centre for Studies in Regional Development, School of Social Sciences, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi. She has been awarded the Felix Scholarship for her study at SOAS, University of London, the ICSSR–CSDS Doctoral Fellowship for her Ph.D research, and the ICSSR–NRTT fellowship for Post Doctoral Studies. Her research interests are based on the interweaving of social theory and technology landscapes. Her research areas include climate change and policy, sustainable livelihoods, climate variability and gendered adaptation, gender and development studies, North East India Area studies, India– Africa relations, Indian diaspora studies, comparative community development, land alienation processes, land labour, and inheritance processes, marginalisation processes and social capital, natural resource management and property rights amongst tribal and non-tribal women, in tribal and caste society in India. She has published widely and has presented her research on multiple national and international platforms.

Milu Maria Jose is a Research Assistant at the North East Regional Research and Resource Centre, Miranda House. With a postgraduate degree in development studies from the Indian Institute of Technology Guwahati, her work spans various fields, including climate change, policies, livelihood, and sustainability. Through her innovative approach, she aims to address pressing global challenges from a holistic perspective, bridging disciplinary boundaries and driving positive change.

Dr Sergey Kostelyanets is Head of the Center for Social and Political Studies at the Institute for African Studies of the Russian Academy of Sciences, Associate Professor at Peoples' Friendship University of Russia, and Senior Research Fellow at the National Research University "Higher School of Economics". His research interests include armed conflicts and conflict resolution in Africa, terrorism, secessionist movements, and relations between Russia, non–African Muslim countries and Africa. Dr. Kostelyanets has published the book Darfur: A History of the Conflict (in Russian) and over 100 research papers in academic journals and anthologies. Dr. Kostelyanets worked previously at the Organization for Security and Co-operation in Europe (OSCE) in the sections for human rights and for combating human trafficking. ORCID ID: 0000-0002-9983-9994

Dr Bianca Naude is a Senior Lecturer in Political Studies and Governance at the University of the Free State, South Africa. Her research in IR theory draws on psychoanalysis, philosophy, and anthropology. She has contributed several scholarly articles and book chapters on African and South African foreign relations, ontological security approaches to issues ranging from terrorism and climate change, to colonialism, collective trauma, and emotions in international politics. Her research monograph, Revisiting State Personhood and World Politics: Identity, Personality, and the IR Subject (2022) was published in the Routledge Psychoanalytic Political Theory Series and was recently named one of International Affairs' Top 5 books in the category "new thinking in IR theory".

Dr MD Muddassir Quamar is an Associate Professor at the Centre for West Asian Studies, School of International Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi. Prior to joining JNU, Dr. Quamar was a Fellow at the Manohar Parrikar Institute for Defence Studies & Analyses, New Delhi. He specialises in Middle East strategic affairs, political Islam, and India's relations with the region. Among other issues, he is interested in society, politics and foreign policy of Saudi Arabia and Türkiye. Dr. Quamar has authored and edited several books, published research articles in reputed academic journals and contributed chapters in edited volumes on contemporary developments in the Middle East. He is the Editor of the Contemporary Review of the Middle East (Sage, India) and was Book Review Editor of Strategic Analysis (T&F, UK) between July 2018 and March 2023. Dr. Quamar was a Visiting Fellow at the King Faisal Centre for Research and Islamic Studies in Riyadh.

Sanet Solomon is a Lecturer in the Department of Political Sciences at the University of South Africa (UNISA). She is an internationally published author, seasoned political analyst and council member of the South African Association of Political Studies (SAAPS).

Dr Hussein Solomon is Senior Professor at the Centre for Gender and Africa Studies at the University of the Free State. He is also a Visiting Professor at the Osaka School of International Public Policy, an Extraordinary Professor at the School of Government, North–West University, a Visiting Professor at the Department of History and Politics at Nelson Mandela University, a Visiting Professor at the Department of Political Science, Faculty of Military Science, Stellenbosch University and a Research Fellow of the Security Institute for Governance and Leadership in Africa (SIGLA).